

Since he began performing at the age of 16 in the Chicago area band Fat Chance as composer-arranger and trumpet player, Dave Herndon's musical life has always been a mix of writing, playing, and teaching music. As a trumpet player, he has toured with The O'Jays, The Temptations, and Andy Williams, among many others, while recording the themes of numerous network television shows and nationally-aired commercials. As an educator, Dave was the Co-Founder of the electronic duo Sound System, which demonstrated digital composition and production skills at the K-12 level. Later, in the classroom, he taught Middle School band for nearly 20 years. He presently remains active in both the music and video production fields.
