

Originally from Des Moines, Iowa, Jake has been performing and teaching music across western Wisconsin and the Twin Cities since 2011. He is an active freelance trumpet player performing multiple styles from jazz to classical to pop. Since graduating from UW-Eau Claire, Jake has taught high school and middle school band, maintained private students, and worked with area band programs. Currently, Jake lives in River Falls, WI, and maintains an active performing and teaching schedule.